

God has not abandoned you!

God will not forsake you, hold on strong.

Times are hard, when all hope is gone.

Things are breaking down, where's the reward.

The answers are there, blow the dust off your sword.

Times are at hand, the LORD will answer your prayers.

Even in impossible times, it's nice to know God cares.

Your heart aches and there is a void.

Just know in time God will restore your joy.

Your money is gone, and all the gasoline is run out.

When you look at the problem, it seems there is only doubt.

Tell your problem how big your God is.

Carry your burden to God and make it His.

Time will tell though Satan cast his spell; things will be better soon.

Perhaps it seems all is in ruin.

What is impossible for you is never hard for Jesus our LORD.

In the process of time things change and you will receive just reward.

We fear the worst that nothing will ever change.

But God works the impossible, and prosperity will be regained.

It's hard to see the light when trapped in a cave.

Blindfolded and bruised life is a maze.

God will shine upon you and remove the stormy haze. Amen
