

Pray but also do...

When walking through the wilderness carry a wooden rod.

Recite your Bible and pray unto God.

Sometimes it takes a little of this and a little of that.

If you are bound in chains God will be where you are at.

We serve a God who loves above anyone at all.

A strong God stands courageous and tall.

God is there in times good and bad.

He will wipe the tears that have made you oh so sad.

For with God nothing is impossible, though we wait for His will.

Sometimes we do and sometimes we stand still.

In scorching heat and on rainy days.

God will shelter you from the tempest in peaceful bays.

Its hard to imagine peace when trapped in a storm.

But I know my God how he keeps the heart warm.

Many a good Christian has been slain with body cast out.

We live in a world of darkness with shadow and doubt.

While we are persecuted for our beliefs we must press on.

Weeping endureth for a night but peace cometh with the dawn.

I know how you feel broken and tattered.

But you are a child of the King and that's all that matters.

I know there are so many frustrations.

But hang in there through trials and tribulations.
